MONDAY EVENING, MARCH 10.

A MODERN BLUEBEARD -A story with all the interest and suspense of the experience of B uebeard's last wife has come to light in Chic-go, through disclosures made by Mrs. Margaret J Whe an in a bill for divorce from James Whe an. She says that after an extraordinary course of abuse on his part she left him, but returned to him on his promise of better behavior. Accompanying him home, she entered their house and followed him to a room. Too late she noticed that the knobs of the doors had been noticed that the knobs of the doors had been removed and their places taken by heavy staples, which were fastened with telegraph wires and padlocks. The terrified woman saked her husband what he meant to do, and he turned on her, and, seizing her by the hair, dragged her to the floor. "Your moments are numbered," he explained. "Pray now, for you have but five minutes to live." She knelt on the floor, with her hands clasped in prayer, and he opened a huge knile and flouri-hed it above her bead. The time was growing short and Whelan turned to a shelf to move the clock to a more convenient. was grown a state of the clock to a more convenient place to watch the minutes at they passed. As he turned his back Mrs. Whelan sprang to her feet and leaped through the window window to the street. She was seriously injured by her fall, but was cared for by neighbors.

MEDICINAL.

A VETERAN.

A VYTHIAR.

I we include in the legat the battle of Stone of the period of the wound, and the leg swelled to double its natural size, and renained so for many years. The poison extended to my whole system, and I suffered a thousand dearbs. Nothing did me any rood until I took Swift's Specific, which took the poison out of my system, and enabled me to feel myself a man amin. S. S. S. is the remedy for blood poison.

Alexandria Gazette

Publishes in condensed but comprehensive form news from all parts of the world, and daily lays before its readers an epitome of whatever is going

THE GAZETTE enjoys unsurpassed facilities for precuring ALL THE NEWS and that, too, often twelve hours earlier than the morning papers, its telegraphic columns being kept open till late each evening in order to receive the very latest dispatches, so that whatever may occur, whether in this or other lands, is almost sure to find its

Its correspondence is newsy and accurate, and its miscellaneous department is conducted with an eye to the calightenment and pleasure of its readers, and no pains are spared to make it at-way into its columns the same day.

Its commercial columns are edited with care and precision, so that the merchant and the farmer can always rely upon its market reports.

As an advertising medium it has few, if any superiors in all this section of country, having an extensive circulation, not only throughout Virginia, but in nearly all the States and Territories
